STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1894.

NO. 58

HON. JAMES B. McCREARY.

Some of the Things Our Congressman has done.

He is the author of a bill that established a court to adjudicate and settle land claims growing out of the treaties with Mexico known as the Gadsden treaty and the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo. This was a most important piece of legislation. Since land litigation, under this act, has been determined in local courts, rather than in a little committee room in Washington we have had no scandale like the Maxwell grant and similar grants.

Author of the legislation that resulted in the Pan-American Congress, participated in by all Americas, North, South and Central.

Author of the bill providing for the survey of a railroad connecting the Northern and Southern parts of our hemisphere. That survey has been made and declared to be practical.

He also first suggested the creation of the Department of Agriculture, and was the author of a bill to that end. He introduced the bill placing farming implements on the free list, also mechanics tools.

He also presented the resolutions with able and exhaustive report, declaring the opposition of the United States to European governmental control of any interoceanic canal across the Isthmus of Darien.

He was the author of that legislation, which he passed over strenuous opposition after a contest of six days, authorizing the president to retaliate upon foreign vessels. This was virile legislation and settled that question.

He secured the legislation under which the International Medical Congress was held in Washington some years ago.

He is the author of the bill amending the Gerry Chinese law, and the McCreary law is a settlement of the vexed Chinese question in our country—a settlement acceptable to both races and both governments. He is the author of the bill to give effect to the Bering Sea award.

But his greatest piece of work was his handling of the Hawaii business the last session of Congress. He pursued the even tenor of his way and passed the resolutions indorsing the administration. For this he received the hearty thanks of the president and the secretary of State.

He was one of the commissioners to represent the United States at the International Monetary Conference held in Europe in 1892 and sustained himself creditably, as he always has done, to whatever station called.

After enumerating these and the other official acts of Gov. McCreary in a letter from Washington to the Courier Journal, the correspondent asks:

What other Kentuckian in our delegation in either House can equal it, or anywhere approach it? There is no bluster about him; he don't blowhole. He is not a brass band heading a siege train of artillery; he is quiet and undemonstrative; but the first thing you know, and before you know it, James B. McCreary has gone and done just what he set out to go and do. In this regard John Sherman is the only man in either House of Congress that surpasses him, and John is not as much of an orator as our Jim is either.

In this our new day and generation McCreary is the man for the times—a practical man, an honest man, a firm man, a strong man—a man who never goes off at the half cock and never loses his head.

There is another aspect of the man I have not mentioned. He is the best politician of all of them, and his word is his bond—remember this, young man, and old gentlemen, too—his word is his bond, and that is not only a great thing, but a rare thing—in a statesman.

Margaret Pioester, of Schenectady, N.Y., is in her 93d year and rides a bicycle with as much vim as a 16-year-old. It is said that she recently challenged any woman of her age in the world to ride a bicycle race with her for a prize Bible.

While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant of Des Moines, Iowa, had quite a bad time of it. He took such a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate, but the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured him of his cold so quickly that others at the hotel who had had colds followed his example and had a dozen people order it from the news stand. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly.

WILLOW GROVE, BOYLE COUNTY.

—William Phillips has rented his place to Nelson Stringer for $195 at $225.

—Adams' Sulphur Well is apparently the most popular point in this section.

—Mrs. King, I am told, will move to her farm from Danville about Jan. 1st.

—Fountain D. Myers sold to Love T. Lillard 7 calves, 2 sows and 15 pigs for $132.

—A two-year-old negro child at Mr. Dave Logan's swallowed a nail, which caused its death in a short time.

—Mrs. Ann Gastineau has about 100 geese. How some young men I know who attended the Liberty Fair would like to have an opportunity to make burroo of one or two of this flock.

—A cistern at the school-house is the latest addition to the premises, and since it was superintended by Capt. Robert D. Logan, it is a daisy, for what he does is always done well. It was even so when he was fighting the Yankees a long time ago.

—Misses Sophia and Lizzie Wright, of the West End of Lincoln, have been visiting Misses Lizzie, Maggie and Agnes Gastineau. The latter two had just returned from Somerset. Miss Georgia Lewis is visiting relatives at Turners Ferry.

—The scholars of Miss Mattie Bosley's school here, 32 in number, had quite an enjoyable picnic among themselves in their teacher's company last Friday. They spread a dinner altogether that almost covered a half acre, and really and truly "had a picnic."

—Guy Hundley has the smallest pony outside of circus. He is 6½ years old. Guy I mean, not the pony, and is absolutely the best equestrian of his age in the country. The pony is just about the size of a shepherd dog and deliberately walks in the house, goes up stairs and otherwise makes itself generally familiar with the inmates of the household.

—It is subject of general remark that Mr. Feland Kenley Tribble is one of the most industrious and successful farmers in the neighborhood. He "keeps things in apple pie order and can do a dozen at once." This is not intended as an advertisement for the young ladies to peruse, but a plain, unvarnished statement of facts.

SRETAW.

—WHEREAS, we have just received the sad news of the death of our repected friend and beloved brother, Rev. John Bell Gibson, who died at his home in Stanford, Sept. 14, 1894, and whereas it has pleased the infinite and alwise God to take him from our church, and a life of usefulness here on earth to that home which is prepared for the finally faithful, be it therefore resolved.

1st. That the Christian church of Barboursville has by the sudden death of our beloved brother lost a useful and devoted member and most successful and proficient minister.

2nd. That while he labored with us in October and November 1893 many were lead by him to confess their Savior and although death has asserted her claims and removed him from our midst, he will yet live in our memory and be loved by us.

3rd. That we extend to his beloved family and relations in this their time of great sorrow, our deepest and heartfelt sympathy and offer them the consoling thought that though he be gone from earth, he lives in Heaven.

4th. That each of us strive to live as pure and holy a life as he and meet him at last in that land where death shall never enter.

5th. That a copy of these resolutions be spread at large upon our church register, one be sent to the Knox County News, INTERIOR JOURNAL and Christian Guide and one be forwarded immediately to the bereaved family.

Yerkes at $185.50, and 10 shares in the Boyle to Moore Brothers at $190.—Miss Mary Listen, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Listen, died at her home in this city last night at 11 o'clock of consumption.—The republicans of Boyle county will hold a convention on Saturday afternoon, the 29th, to nominate a full ticket for county officials.—Advocate.

LATONIA.—The Fall Meeting at Latonia extends from September 1st to October 6th. The Queen & Crescent will sell tickets to Cincinnati each day, good 5 days to return, at one and one-third fare for the round trip. Ask agents for particulars. W. C. Rinearson, G. P. A., Cincinnati.

Bucklin's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions. It positively cures piles, or no pay, refund.

It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Castle, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism; his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Sheppard, Harrisburg, Penn., was on his last of eight years' standing.

Used three bottles of Electric Bitters.

seven boxes of Bucklin's Arnica Salve and had his sound and well! John Speaker, Catawba O., had five large fever sores on his legs, which he was unable to get rid of. He took a bottle of Electric Bitters and one box Bucklin's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by A. R. Penny, druggist.

ROWLAND.

—Elijah Pence is painting Tom Ball's residence. John Cordier and Hallie Carr have built a large shop, near the post-office, for blacksmithing and wagon-making.

—Mr. Charles S. Keisling was thrown from a freight car near Brodhead, on Wednesday, receiving two painful but not dangerous wounds. Dr. Peyton was called to dress them.

—We see from your last issue that Gov. McCrory will speak in your town court day in October. We hope he will make an appointment for this place, as there are a few who need an old fashioned dose of democracy.

—Master Tommy Shelton bought a young Montana colt for $25. Peter Hamilton has received a new piano wagon and plenty of elegant instruments and proposes to furnish music to the public; but we feel that he would sustain the same relation to one of them that a monkey does to a grinding organ.

—Notwithstanding the financial pressure, there are many reasons why we should rejoice. First, God has bestowed upon us all needed blessings, including a refreshing rain; the Japs have gained another victory over the Chinese, and last, though not least, Owens has defeated Breckinridge. We see no room for grumbling. The man who is not grummed at this is a chronic kicker and would not be satisfied with gold nails in his coffin.

—Mrs. Lizzie Carter has returned from Lebanon Junction. Mrs. Andrews, of Corbin, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ahune. Mrs. George Pope is visiting friends at Livingston. Miss Alice Stagner, of Lowell, is with Mrs. Vandever. Mr. Jeff Barnes has returned from Maysville. Mrs. Umberston has gone to New York to see her brother, who is very sick. Her husband accompanied her as far as Louisville. L. C. Land, of Louisville, is the guest of his brother, Robert Land.

IN MEMORIAM.

THE Hon. E. J. McDermott is little but he is loud. The Louisville evening papers claimed that he was not in the race, but when the ballots were counted it was shown that he was nominated for Congress in the 5th district, by 2,449 over the present incumbent, Hon. Asher G. Carnith and 3,043 over John M. Atherton, who is said to have opened his "bar." Mr. McDermott is a young man and the young men, who do the halloing and the working, together with the city machine, nominated him. Then too he is a Catholic and they always stick together. The nominee is far from being to honor and to fame unknown. He is a man of brains and brilliancy, has represented his district in the Legislature and—but don't let it be used against him, was a member of the constitutional convention. The wing of war will come in the final struggle with Col. Evans, but the democrats have got the votes and they will elect their man, if they are at all worthy to follow the lead of Jefferson and Jackson.

THE Middleboro News figures Col. Adams clear out of the race, only giving him Clinton, Russell and Pulaski, with a majority of 800, against the Magic City magnate's 4,400 in the other counties of the district. Even Casey is put down in Colson's column. Such reckless statements will not fool even the fools. Col. Adams is as popular as any man could be in Casey, and his standing at home is such as to make his friends proud of him. We do not think they can beat the old war horse, even with money, and if he is not returned to Congress, the republicans of the 11th will show that they can not appreciate genuine worth and modest merit.

THE sugar planters of Louisiana have gone over body and soul to the republican party and will unite with them in their effort to elect Congressman of that faith in that State. The cause of their action is the repeal by the democratic party of the sugar bounty law. Such men can easily be spared from the party, which will not rob the many for the benefit of the few. The bounty law was a steal from the pockets of the people pure and simple to enrich a few hundred sugar planters, whose action now show they can be bought with a price. The democracy can not afford to pay so much for them.

EMMETT LOGAN is treading on dangerous ground when he gets after Desha. Anybody can nail the old man, but if this from the Times doesn't call for blood we are mistaken in the son of his Pa. With the damnable iteration of a poll-parrot, Son Desha continues to tell a tired public what Pa is going to do. As everybody knows what Pa has done and doesn't care a continental what Son says Pa is going to do, why doesn't this perpetual young man give his innocuous jaw a well earned rest.

DESHA BRECKINRIDGE went to Georgetown to see how "pa" had been swindled there, but he found such a mob spirit prevailing, as he excitedly tells the Lexington Press, that he was glad to get away with his life. He really believes the "cowardly scamps" would have shot him down, had they possessed the courage to do so. We suspect that "my boy" was worse scared than he would have been hurt, but all the same, the Georgetown people do not intend to submit to any "shenanigan."

THE prohibitionists as a party will never amount to a hill of beans, but prohibition itself is making rapid strides. Nearly every county in Mississippi has voted prohibition, including the county in which the capital is, and now in Arkansas 44 of the 75 counties have gone dry at one fell swoop. The rum seller has got to go and the rum drinker is going to too. May they some day be only a memory.

We admit that we were somewhat off in our predictions about the Louisville primary, but not so far off as the Times, which laughs at our misse, was in his prognostications of the result before and after the vote was taken. It still said Caruth was nominated when McDermott had gone in by nearly 2,500 plurality. As very false prophet, we are both entitled to free passage on the Salt river raft.

It seems to be a day of little men in Louisville. She has the smallest mayor in the country and now she's going to have the smallest Congressman. We mean of course physically speaking. Mentally they are giants. Mayor Tyler has to tip-toe to reach a glass on a bar counter, while McDermott has to climb up on a chair to talk with an ordinary sized man.

WHEN people get too good for this world they ought to be translated. The Methodists, at least some of them, seem to have reached that state and we expect to see them taken to heaven like Elijah. At the conference held in Frankfort, Dr. Poynter, president of Science Hill Academy, at Shelbyville, was held up for permitting his girls to dance. He explained that it was simply a healthful exercise without male accompaniment and that he could see no harm in it, but the goody good rolled their eyes in holy horror and said it must be stopped instantaneously, forthwith, immediately. They used to say it was not dancing unless you crossed your feet, but this high tribunal has decided that any form of the amusement is as bad almost as the unpardonable sin, if not the sin itself, and must not be indulged in except at the risk of forfeiting church membership here and spending the hereafter in hades. Alas! that all of us should strain at a camel and swallow a goat.

In this neck of the woods there are no tears being shed over the turning down of Congressman Garuth by the Louisville primary. We have always regarded him as a very smooth bore and have had no patience with him since his action in the surveyor's contest. It would not have been so bad if he had chosen some good man of the many good ones who offered for the place, but it was absolutely ridiculous to have such a "bug-nump" appointed as the present incumbent. That very act cost him many hundred votes, we haven't a doubt.

COL. CRADDOCK is getting so reckless with his money that his heirs apparent or otherwise are thinking of having a committee appointed for him. He actually gave, so it is alleged, a mountain church $1 to help buy an organ. Nobody who knows the editor of the Paris Kentuckian believes this story, but we are prepared for the most improbable things after his paper advocated Col. Breckinridge on one page and Owen on the other.

THERE is nothing new in the Breckinridge business. He issued a manifesto, in which he claimed to have been defrauded by illegal votes and abusing everybody and everything that had opposed him. The official count, he declares, will alone satisfy him of his defeat, and then he will support the nominee. Owens' majority over him is still stated at over 300 and he will be declared the nominee to-morrow, almost without a doubt.

A MINORITY resolution favoring the election of U. S. Senators by popular vote was carried in the Ohio convention by a vote of 467 to 328, after a heated debate. This was done as a token of opposition to Senator Brice, whose name was frequently hissed. The Senator is said to have bought his seat and paid for it with money gotten from the trusts, for whose sakes he with Gorman, and others betrayed the democratic party.

THE New York republicans nominated Ex-Vice President Levi P. Morton for governor, opposed free silver coinage and found nothing in the democratic party, except that worthy of criticism and condemnation. Everything that has happened, even almost to the forest fires, are charged to the present administration, and there is no help in the country, unless it comes from the republican party. It is very sad.

THE populists can't get the names of their candidates printed on the official ballots in Illinois, the law requiring that they must cast at the previous election 2 per cent of the entire vote to enable them to do so. But since we come to think of it, what's the use of putting such a ticket out? That alleged party is a back number and as of little value as last year's bird's nest.

THE race between Judge S. B. Toney and Mr. O'Neal for the appellate judgeship was so close that a contest will result. On the face of the returns, Judge Toney has 163 majority, but O'Neal claims that the official count and corrections will show his nomination. The former seems to have the call, however, and he will in all probability be declared the standard bearer.

THE old stagers won't know the next Kentucky delegation in Congress. Only two, McCreary and Montgomery, have so far made their calling sure, and they and Berry, of the Covington district, will, with Col. Adams probably, be the only ones left to tell the tale. Truly does the Courier-Journal say "this is a bad year for incumbents."

THE only white republican in Randolph county, Ga., has been sent to the lunatic asylum. A large proportion of the colored republicans in that county had already gone to the penitentiary. The two places are bound to get over crowded, if all who ought to be sent to the one or the other get their deserts.

BEN SKILLZ is nothing if not clever. When it was reported that Breckinridge had won the nomination, he telephoned him his compliments and assurance of support. Afterwards Owens got on top and he hastened to tender his good wishes and faithful service. There are no flies on Evan.

IT is said that the republicans will nominate George Denny for Congress against Mr. Owens. If they do there will be more oratory on tap in the 7th district. The roaring bull of Bashan is somewhat of a spell binder himself.

NEWSY NOTES.

—W. J. Scanlon, the actor, has been adjudged insane.

—J. G. Decker has been appointed postmaster at Clyde, Wayne county.

—Breckinridge carried Bourbon by 154, Fayette by 205 and Henry by 465.

—A convict at the Jeffersonville penitentiary died at the hour his sentence expired.

—The Chinese were routed at Ping Yang, Corea, with 2,300 killed and 20,000 surrendered.

—Gov. Flower has decided not to be a candidate for renomination by the democrats of New York.

—The much-talked-of Brewer estate of $10,000 will be divided among heirs and the litigation settled.

—Lord Rothschild presents each London policeman with a pipe and an ounce of tobacco at Christmas.

—Walter and Dennison Gallien met with death from foul air while cleaning a well near Union, W. Va.

—Three persons were instantly killed and three others probably fatally shocked by lightning in Bath county.

—John Morrow, of Dallas, Texas, killed James O'Neil because he found him walking with his wife after dark.

—Miss Sallie Young, of Mendon, O., was fatally stung by yellow jackets while attending the burial of a relative.

—A colored gambler at the Campbellsville Fair has been sentenced to two years in the penitentiary and a fine of $500.

—A. A. Robinson has declined the presidency of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad at a salary of $60,000 a year.

—In a naval battle between the Chinese and Japanese on the Yalu, two of the former's war ships went down and three of the latter's.

—Joseph Denzio, the great Louisville fruit man, is dead. He was 52 years old and came to this country from Sicily 25 years ago without a cent.

—Patrick O'Leary, the husband of Mrs. O'Leary, who owned the cow that kicked over the lamp that burned the city of Chicago in 1871, is dead.

—Breckinridge's friends charge fraud in the late primary by showing that the total vote at the primary was 10,219, while the vote for Cleveland in 1892 was only 16,598.

—The populist candidate for sheriff at Indianapolis is prevented from prosecuting his canvass by a 30-day sentence to the workhouse for drunkenness, assault and battery.

—A two-story house at South Bend, Ind., was moved a quarter of a mile in 20 minutes by the watch. It was close to the railroad track and a locomotive was hitched to it.

—Grant Westerfield, Elvira, Laurens county, vice Attison Bowling, resigned, and A. W. Jones, Rittner, Wayne county, vice J. F. Jones, resigned, are new post-office changes.

—The so-called democrats in South Carolina denounced President Cleveland for letting republicans remain in office and for joining forces with the republicans to demonetize silver.

—At a convention of the democrats of Hart county Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner was endorsed for United States Senator, and the selection of Senators by the people warmly advocated.

—Twenty years ago the sovereign grand lodge of I. O. O. F. met in Atlanta. There were then 6,000 members in the South. At the Chattanooga meeting this week nearly 50,000 are reported.

—In Louisville, Mr. Pilanz is the winner in the contest for sheriff by a plurality of 57, while Mr. Woolfolk defeats Maj. Calloway by 49. The other candidates for county offices had no opposition.

—The executive committee of the Kentucky Woman's Confederate Monument Association has decided upon a design for the monument to be erected in Louisville October 15. It is by Miss Enid Yandell, and its construction will cost $12,000.

—It is reported that the Owens forces spent $20,000 to $25,000 in the race, $6,000 of it coming from Bourbon alone, and that one lady in Lexington contributed $500 to the fund. The Breckinridge men are reported to have spent about $5,000. Settle had little or nothing.

—The new Planters' House, St. Louis, has been opened. The hotel is 10 full stories high and is fireproof throughout, and has 400 bedrooms, of which 350 are front rooms. It occupies a floor area of nearly three-quarters of an acre. It cost in construction, including furnishing, upwards of $1,900,000.

—Americans import from Japan about 40,000,000 pounds of tea a year and 45,000,000 pounds from China. If the tea market eventually becomes much disturbed there will be an increase of interest in the tea-growing experiments in South Carolina and Florida.

—Asked if he would be a candidate for Congress, Maj. McDowell said: "No, not for a $100,000. As long as there was a prospect of Col. Breckinridge being nominated, there was a possibility of my running, but I am out of it now and don't want to run under any circumstances."

—The Hon. Samuel O. Nunn, an ex-member of the Kentucky Legislature, and ex-Deputy Warden of the Eddyville penitentiary, was shot and instantly killed at Marion by Town Marshal Lloyd. He had been on a protracted spree and had threatened Lloyd for having arrested him.

—John W. Stebbins, of Maryland, on the nomination of Mr. William W. Morris, of Louisville, was elected Grand Sire of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, in session at Lookout Mountain Inn, Tenn. Atlantic City, N. J., was chosen as the next place of meeting.

—A daring plot of five farmers residing at Memphis, Mo., to hold up and rob the Denver and Utah express of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad was frustrated near Gorin, Mo. Through a spy the officials and detectives were informed of the plot and met the attack with a fusilade of bullets, which the bandits answered. Four have been arrested; two are wounded, one fatally.

—Wheat crushed for feed at 5c per bushel. J. H. Baughman & Co.

—Several varieties of nice seed wheat for sale. J. H. Baughman & Co.

—Sam M. Owens sold to Will Moreland a car load of 225 pound hogs at 5c.

—Sixty million pounds of oleomargarine was used in the United States last year.

—Farris & Whitley, of Boyle, bought in the Shelby City section a lot of 100 stock hogs at 5c.

—The first hoghead of tobacco of the 1894 crop was sold on the break at Louisville Wednesday.

—A. Steenbergen has three ears of corn with 28 rows each on them. They are as large as a small sized keg.

—Fifty acres of fresh grass land for rent, 1½ miles from Hustonville on the Stanford pike. Robert Barnett.

—All orders for feed must be accompanied with the cash, if expected to be honored. J. H. Baughman & Co.

—The Kentucky Association will hold its fall meeting at Lexington, November 12. This is to prevent a clash with Oakley.

—It cost $1,000 to take a carload of fruit from Sacramento to London two years ago. The rate this year is about $700.

—There were 2,000 cattle on the Mt. Sterling market Monday. Good feeders sold at 3 to 3½; heifers and yearlings at 2 to 3.

—It is estimated that Georgia's watermelon shipments have brought into the State from half to three-quarters of a million dollars.

—Nancy Hanks is no longer queen of the trotting turf. Alix holds the record now at 2:03½, having gone the mile at that on the Galesburg, Ill., track.

—R. N. Wathen & Co. bought of Joe Phillips 57 top sugar mules at $125. The same firm has also bought several other lots not as good at $100.—Lebanon Falcon.

—The Terre Haute Trotting Association is $5,000 behind on its last meeting, which was the most brilliant it has ever had, as far as record smashing is concerned.

—Mr. Joshua Brown sends us word that we were mistaken about Mr. Carter having anything to do with the sale of his farm. He sold it himself direct to Mr. Goode.

—I. Shelby Tevis sold a lot of 1,025 pound cattle at 3½c. Mr. Tevis has bought so far about 500 barrels of corn at $1.50 on the stalk and $1.00 to $2 delivered in his crib.

—A Nebraska man has made arrangements to start a farm near Raleigh to breed coach horses. A Pennsylvania man has also started a farm near the same place for the purpose of raising pecans, butternuts, fibbers, etc.

—A large crowd attended A. M. Feland's sale yesterday, but bidding was rather slow. Farming implements sold very low; yearling cattle brought 3½c; horses, mostly Texas ponies and plugs, brought from $18 to $30; calves $15; milk cows $20 to $40; yearling mares $31. The sale had not been completed when our reporter left and it was likely that it would last till dark.

—GORGETOWN COURT.—About 150 cattle offered. A bunch of common, of about 1,000 pounds, sold at 2½c; good ones would have brought 3½ cents. A lot of fat halves, of 1,000 pounds, sold at 2½c. Work mules, two and three years old, brought $62 to $75 per head; one pair good mare mules sold at $145. Thirty good farm Southdown sheep and six bucks sold at $3.65.—Times.

—FINE LIVERY STABLE FOR RENT.—Mr. E. Coleman, who now has possession of my livery stable, will vacate when rented to other parties. It is one of the largest, handsomest and best appointed and best located stables in the State, and has recently undergone extensive repairs and additions. It has always enjoyed a large business. For terms and particulars call on T. H. Hardin, of this place. E. Rosser, Harrodsburg, Ky.

MR. JOSEPH COFFEY has bought of Mr. W. R. Dillon histore at Livingston and has placed his stepson, Walter Saunders, in it. Mr. Coffey will also spend the greater portion of his time behind the counters.

ANOTHER cool rain fell Tuesday, since which time it has been decidedly cool. The mercury showed 48° yesterday morning, only a few degrees above freezing. The equinox usually brings a change of weather.

ALL the miners in the Jellico district, with the exception of those employed in the Woolridge and Standard mines at Newcomb, are out on a strike again. The causes claimed to be the failure of the operators to live up to a contract made two months ago regarding screens.

A SEQUEL to the scandal telegraphed from Crab Orchard last Summer comes from Shelby. R. R. Walters met John L. Hopkins for the first time since he was caught in his wife's room, Tuesday, and fired five shots at him, without effect, perhaps the more's the pity. A suit for divorce will be tried at the next term of court in Shelby.

AN effort is being made to get up a match race between Bicyclists Robert Adams, of Somerset, and Sam Hocker, of Kansas City, who is visiting here. Both of the gentlemen have enviable records as riders and a race would no doubt prove very interesting. Mr. Hocker is ready and willing and Mr. Adams has been written to.

BARBEQUE.—Mercer democrats are going to have an old-fashioned barbecue at Harrodsburg Saturday in honor of Gen. P. Wat Hardin and Gov. McCreary. Aside from the burgo and other regiments there will be speeches by Gen. Hardin, Gov. Brown, Senator Blackburn, Congressman McCreary and others. The Stanford Uniformed Band of 20 pieces will help to make music for the throng.

THE Academy under the charge of Prof. F. J. Duffey, assisted by Miss Mattie Paxton, is growing daily in grace and numbers. There are double as many pupils now as on opening day and the cry is still they come. The professor does not believe in sparing the rod and spoiling the child, and since he dressed down two of the most unruly youngsters he has had little trouble. He is determined to run the school himself, and most of the pupils appear willing for him to do it.

We give a few of the more important things that Gov. McCreary has accomplished in Congress, on our first page. The record is a remarkable one, but it only refers to National legislation. What he has done; for his constituents would fill a volume. He has been instant in season and out of season, and if a man, woman or child, democrat, republican, prohibitionist or what not, has ever sought his aid in vain, we have never heard of it. Of course the people of the 8th intend to keep him in Congress.

He is determined to run the school himself, and most of the pupils appear willing for him to do it.

A KICK THAT MAY COST.—Some time ago, B. D. Holtzclaw, sold a negro a lot of lumber, which he did not pay for according to promise. The other day he saw the man building a house for John Pope and supposing that he was using the lumber he bought from him, Holtzclaw proceeded to kick both gable ends out. The negro had him arrested and he was brought before the police judge at Rowland yesterday, but Connty Attorney J. B. Paxton found that the jurisdiction of that officer did not extend beyond his town limits, and the case was set for the 25th, when Judge Varner will say how much the kick was worth.

The jury in the case of Pat Cane for the murder of Marshal Silcox, of Shelby City, was easily obtained out of the regular panel of the Boyle circuit court, and the trial began Tuesday. The Commonwealth proved that it was an unprovoked murder and rested at noon Wednesday. The defense is that Cane thought that Silcox was backed by white caps and shot to save his life. Commonwealth Attorney John Sam Owlesley, Jr., is assisted by Messrs. Harding, Goodloe and Corn, while Judge R. J. Breckinridge and Graham Price represent the accused. The trial was still in progress at 3 o'clock yesterday, with little prospect of getting through by night.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

It is telegraphed that W. K. Vandebilt and wife are reconciled and will occupy Marble House.

Edwin Gould denies the report that his sister, Miss Anna, is engaged to Prince Francis of Battenburg.

Mr. W. H. Rigney, 24 and Miss Maria Underwood, 20, both of Hubble, were made one by Elder Joseph Ballou Tuesday.

Mr. J. D. Anderson and Miss Marie E. Johnson, both of this county, obtained license here and were married by Eld. J. G. Livingston, Wednesday.

Elizabeth Harper, of Wabash, Ind., a comely widow of 50, has filed suit for $5,000 damages for breach of promise against Michael Hare, aged 75.

Mr. Tyler Nash and Miss Mary Gay, two prominent society people, were married in Woodford. Miss Bessie Woolfolk, of Daville, was one of the bridesmaids.

There is a family in Wolfe county, which consists of twin husbands, twin wives and two sets of twin babies, each and all red headed. We suppose they own nothing but white horses.

Mr. William Powell, 21, and Miss Wilmarth Lyons, 17, both of Junction City, drove up here yesterday and were married by Eld. W. E. Ellis at his residence. The bride is a real little beauty.

Miss Nauntee, the beautiful daughter of Mr. R. R. Denton, of Garrard, was married last week to Mr. Victor Lear, also of Garrard. The bride is a sister of Mrs. Samuel H. Rout, of the West End.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

Rev. J. M. Bruce's Liberty College opened with 100 pupils.

Elder J. G. Livingston is holding a meeting at Watts Chapel. There had been one addition to yesterday.

The heresy charges against Dr. W. T. Poynter, of Shelbyville, were withdrawn by the Kentucky Conference.

There are more missionaries in Corea from the Presbyterian and Methodist churches than from other denominations.

There will be preaching at Rush Branch church next Sunday at 11 A. M. All the members are requested to be present.

The noted Georgia evangelist, Dr. Culpepper, closed a meeting at Booneville, Mo., with 200 additions to the different churches.

Eld. Strother M. Cook, Jr., was here this week. He will sail early in October for Africa, where he goes as missionary for the fourth time.

At the beginning of this century there were only 47 translations of the Bible in existence, while to-day there are 90 entire and 30 partial translations.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lord, an eccentric old lady who recently died in Brooklyn, left $13,000 in her will to Mrs. Dr. Talmage, of whose husband as a preacher she was a great admirer.

Elder Surber was taken to task by Uncle Ben Allen, at Harrodsburg, for saying in the pulpit that he did not know whether a man could be a Christian and support either the democrat or republican party. The old man said he was 86, and it was the first time that he had ever heard the democratic party maligned from the pulpit.

The Northern Methodist Conference made the following appointments for the Middlesboro district: S. K. Ramsey, Presiding Elder; Barbourville-D. Stevenson, and president Union College; Beattyville-M. M. Rountree; Booneville-W. H. Crane; Breathitt-T. A. Estes; Compton-C. S. Stump; Clay-To be supplied; College Hill-S. F. Kelley; Corbin-C. S. Martin; Estill-F. L. Creech; Harlan-To be supplied; Highland-John Godby; London-J. F. Hopkins; Pineville-W. H. Eakin; Williamsburg-C. M. Baker; Woodbine-T. J. Perkins. In the Lexington district Fred Gridlin goes to Middleburg; H. D. Burnett to Pulaski; V. T. Willis to Nicholasville and E. B. Hill to Somerset.

The Kentucky Conference of the Methodist Church South, which had been in session at Frankfort, adjourned Tuesday. Winchester was chosen for the next place of meeting. The appointments from the Danville district are:

Presiding Elder, W. F. Vaughn; Danville, W. F. Taylor.

Hartford, J. R. Deering.

Perryville, E. H. Godfrey.

Mackville, S. W. Peoples.

Chaplin, W. F. Eckler.

In the Middlesboro district M. F. Moores goes to Middlesboro; C. E. Boswell to London; A. E. Colgrove to Manchester and Barbourville; F. A. Savage to Pineville, and W. P. Ragan to East Bernstadt. Presiding Elder H. P. Walker is transferred to the Covington district; F. S. Pollitt goes to Frankfort and T. J. Godsey remains at La Grange.

A large quantity of pearls have been found in the Ohio river near New Richmond, O.

The gold reserve in the National treasury is continually increasing. It is nearly $60,000,000 now.

The National Distributing Co., a rival of the Whisky Trust, has been incorporated in New York.

It goes against an old man's grain to find his son sowing wild oats, drinking rye and getting corned.—Picayune.

Judge Gibbons decided at Chicago that the whisky trust is illegal. If sustained this will end the concern.

Dr. Tracy's report just made to the health department shows that the "temperance house population" of New York is now 1,332,772.

On account of the small crowd and the conflict with Mr. Felan's sale, Mr. C. J. Craig decided to postpone his sale. He is undecided now when he will sell.

Col. Breckinridge is out of politics and Madeline Pollard has abandoned a stage career. Thanksgiving Day will be heartily celebrated this year.—N. Y. World.

C. C. McIlroy, business manager of the Meade County, Kentucky, Messenger, committed suicide because of "sickness, disappointment, discouragement and an utterly hopeless future."

The coffin in which the body of the late fruit merchant, Joe Denunzio, was buried was the finest ever sold in Louisville. It cost $800, the trimming being of solid silver. His estate is estimated at $500,000.

This is telegraphed from Gallipolis, O.: "Mrs. Maggie Jones, a partially deaf colored lady, living at Point Pleasant, was told that if she would bind a live toad on each ear for 24 hours her hearing would be restored. She followed the advice and can now hear very distinctly."

BRADLEY FOOLING MOUNTAIN VOTERS.

[To the Editor of The Interior Journal.]
Mr. VERNON, Sept. 10.—Circuit court convened here Monday. A large concourse of people present. Judge Morrow's instructions to the grand jury were very learned and comprehensive. Among many other things he said the crowded condition of the penitentiary (being 1,600 convicts there) was sufficient evidence that the laws were enforced, but I remarked that was only because the juries ought to have hung one fourth of the convicts at home, and then there would only have been 1,200 there. The juries are severe enough on petty offenders—'tis the death penalty they will not inflict. Too saving with hemp. If all murderers from Cain down to the present had been put to death there probably would not now be one in the United States, perhaps not one in all the world.

The event of the first day was Bradley's speech. His exhortations of our incompetent leaders and traitorous Senate were severe and well deserved. Well did a distinguished English statesman once say, when the people win a victory at the polls, they then have to have a stand up and knock down fight with their leaders before they could have their principles carried out. 'Tis strange how often the people will elect men to misrepresent them. I am afraid the traitorous Senate and the incompetent leaders have given the country over to the monopolies and millionaires for decades to follow. Bradley illustrated their incompetency by John driving the chariot of the sun, now and then driving too high from earth and freezing us all to death, (the snow 20th of May), then too near to earth and burning up the country, (the great fire in the north-west). When Bradley would quote from Heathen Mythology or Shakespeare, he would tell the audience when he could not give the name or quote the verse exactly as in the book that his friend Bobbitt could. Bradley held that the tariff on an article did not increase its cost and then in a few minutes he said the McKinley tariff bill of 1890 took tariff off of sugar and then a man could buy more sugar for a dollar than ever before. I could see with the eye of imagination a man coming home with a dollar's worth of sugar, staggering under its weight like old Atlas carrying the world on his shoulders. Bradley is a great man and most eloquent one and of whom I am exceedingly proud. For as Judge Saufley once said of me: "With all of Bobbitt's general meanness, he has not one particle of envy." That is true, judge. The great trouble about democracy is that the party is not led by its leaders or those leaders are most woefully incompetent.

I don't think there is a good cause of pure democracy North of the Ohio river. I don't even admire Mr. Cleveland much. The bare rumor that he and family did not show sufficient consideration to Jefferson Davis' daughter is enough, if nothing more. I would not give the daughter of that gallant chieftain for all the Clevelands and Baby Ruths and Maria Haipines that could stand between the two oceans. Bradley never mentioned McCleary, but wound up his speech by calling on the people to vote for the gallant old soldier, Dr. Roberts, candidate for Congress. He said he was a brave soldier. But I don't know about that, when I see 10 men drawn up in line to fight 99, and then see one man rush in to assist the 99 against 10, I don't know whether he is brave or not. In regard to pensions Bradley said if he (Bradley) were in Congress he would vote every dollar out of the treasury before one of those old white-headed veterans should go to the poor-house.

THE VERY SMART YOUNG MAN.

"Eureka!" said young Leatherhead, / And he laughed in his boyish glee. / "Just wait till I start out, and then / I'll let those footees see / That they're ten' slow for today, you know. / They cannot strike his gall, / But, oh, it would drive me mad / To save and slave from here to the grave / As has my poor old dad. / And after I've lived long awhile / It will be a joy profound / To come and show folks how I'll sow / My stock of wealth around." / And he saw, did he, glad things to be, / When his course began. / And he paused to get a cigarette. / Did the very smart young man.

"My s--- is a good old soul," said he. / "But, oh, it would drive me mad / To save and slave from here to the grave / As has my poor old dad. / And after I've lived long awhile / It will be a joy profound / To come and show folks how I'll sow / My stock of wealth around." / And he saw, did he, glad things to be, / When his course began. / And he paused to get a cigarette. / Did the very smart young man.

And there came a day when he went away, / This youth who would fortune win. / He had fixed a scheme, 'twas a pretty dream, / To make a new scoop it in. / And he told his pa, and he told his ma, / And he told the neighbors, too. / In a glowing style and a happy smile / Of the wondrous things he'd do. / But the world went round, and the sun went down, / As they have since the world began. / Yet the days that came brought wealth / For the very smart young man.

In a ranged coat one day he wrote / These words to his loving mom. / "Dear mother, can't you plan some way / And fix it up with pa? / To send me a ticket to bring me home / (I hope he won't oppose) / His son's return, and, by the by, / A castoff suit of clothes?" / And begged him to plan. / Some happy way three meals a day / To get for a smart young man! / —Chicago Journal.

The Latest. There are all kinds of gambling in Chicago, no doubt of it. Three kinds of promise in summer gowns came fluttering into a West Side drug store and went to the soda water fountain as if by instinct.

"Will you let us have the directory, please?" said one of them.

The bulky volume was laid before her.

"Now, girls, remember the last figure counts, right hand page, and each one gets three cents. I'll begin."

She opened the book and said, "Oh-h-h!" while the two giggled with delight. The page was 1703.

"Put down three there," said she. Another cut brought 407.

"That makes 10. Now I get another. Good! That's five more. Fifteen isn't bad."

The second girl opened at 269, so that nine was her first count. Next time she "cent" three, and the last number was seven, making her, as she observed, "high man."

The third one began with 76, added five and collapsed on the third trial, for the right hand page was 1451.

"I'm stuck," she said, with the philosophic air of a thorough sport. She began to rummage in her purse, and the highly entertained drug clerk drew three chocolate ice cream sodas.

He observed after the girls departed, "That's the first time I ever knew the city directory was a gambling implement."—Chicago Record.

In the Wrong Place.

Mr. Pluggins had been playing the races that day, and, as is sometimes the case, he had bet on the favorite. He had walked home, and when he went to bed he felt like sleeping, but in the middle of the night he was disturbed by a burglar in his room. When he opened his eyes, he saw Mr. Burglar rummaging in the drawer of his dressing case, and it provoked him to such an extent that he slipped a revolver from under his bed and in a second had the marauder under cover. Then he announced himself, and the burglar saw that it was too late to kick.

"Don't move," remarked Pluggins, "or I'll shoot. What are you trying to get out of that drawer anyhow?"

"Nothin'," growled the humbled robber.

"Why in thunder didn't you look in my pockets, if that is all you wanted?" laughed Mr. Pluggins cheerfully and then wounded the burglar's feelings by asking him where he had taken lessons in burgling. —Detroit Free Press.

The Height of Meanness.

Brush—That fellow Guifler is the meanest man I ever saw. We are going to put up a $300,000 claim in our parish, and he has refused to subscribe.

Bruce—What excuse did he make? Brush—He said he had just given $5,000 to a fresh air fund.—New York Herald.

His Thoughts.

Jones—Well, my little man, what are you thinking about?

London Boy (who has never been out of Whitechapel before)—I'm thinkin' it's time my mother put yer into trousers.

—Punch.

A Good Suggestion.

Briggs—I wish I knew how to pass away the time quickly during the next month.

Griggs—Why don't you give a 30 day note?—New York World.
